City Budget Adopted Over Duo's Protest

In advance of an uneventful meeting as a board of equalization to hear tax protests Monday morning, the city council convened for regular business and adopted, over dissent of Councilmen Evans A. Fletcher and William M. Werder, the 1940-41 budget.

Although City Treasurer B. E. Myers still must compute the tax rate in preparation for next Monday night's meeting, when the budget ordinance will be up for adoption, City Manager Charles L. Dimmitt estimated the rate would reach $1.34 for each $100 valuation.

Fletcher and Werder objected to adoption of the budget until Monday night, on the grounds that additional funds should be budgeted for the recreation department to place Director Alfred Morton on a full-time basis. They urged that the rate be raised to $1.35 for that purpose, but were over-ridden by Councilmen H. W. Edmonds, Floyd D Granger and Louis C. Christensen.

Absent from the meeting were Mayor Harold F. Anderson and Councilman George McNulty.

RETIREMENT FUND INCLUDED

The tax rate was hoisted 5 cents on Monday by the decision to include funds for the start of the city employes' retirement fund, should the plan be put into effect before the end of the fiscal year.

The addition to the tax rate will yield about $6000, it was estimated by Myers. Dimmitt said the retirement plan will cost the city about 10 cents a year on its tax rate, in addition to surplus funds supplied by the water department, or something in the neighborhood of $16,000 to $18,000 a year.

The added funds will be earmarked, and in the event the retirement plan is not put into effect until the next fiscal year, the money will be held over for that specific purpose instead of reverting to the general fund.

FEARS LOSING MORTON

Fletcher, in his plea for additional recreation funds, said, "We aren't keeping our recreation development in pace with the growth of the city. If we don't put director Morton on full time we are liable to lose him to some other municipality."

Edmonds led the discussion against additional funds with the statement that he was opposed to any expenditures "not entirely vital, in view of world conditions."

In the face of no protests on the tax assessments, the council accepted the assessment roll as presented by Nelle Miramontes, assessor and collector. No further protest hearings will be conducted.

Hardware Stores Here Carry Complete Lines

With the opening of a pre-Autumn campaign by merchants to show what is offered in Redwood City, local hardware stores have arranged a demonstration to convince the public that they have as fine a selection of merchandise as hardware stores found in towns of even greater size than Redwood City.

YOU CAN GET IT IN REDWOOD CITY

Unlike the merchant of old, today's hardware retailer must carry a complete stock in many lines. Included are building hardware; appliances of all sorts; heating, refrigeration, plumbing accessories; garden and outdoor furniture; gadgets for labor-saving during the hours spent outdoors. Sportsmen have come too to concentrate their buying of fishing and sporting goods at the hardware store, where a complete stock of all types of poles, lines, spinnets, etc. are to be found.

A glance at the merchandise in Redwood City stores shows the large stocks available to choose from. Housewares, china, kitchen utensils and art pieces are artistically displayed. Refrigerators are available in a wide range of sizes and prices. Radio and sports departments are complete, as is the gadget department, where one can get everything from a screw to a cultivator. Windows of Redwood City hardware stores show a definite attention to details, being artistically trimmed and having a genuine appeal. Inside stores, signs direct buyers to various departments, and orderliness and cleanliness seem to be watchwords.

Discussing the hardware situation in Redwood City, W. E. Ayer of the Redwood City Hardware Co., 2615 Broadway, declared: "We try definitely to carry all the merchandise the public demands, and in most cases we are able to supply their needs." J. F. (Jack) Biane, manager of Hull Brothers, Broadway at Main St., reported, "Our wide range of items usually satisfy any customer demand, and we try to keep up to the minute on anything new that enters the field." R. C. Holmquist Jr., owner of Holmquist Hardware, 875 Main St., explained, "The customers in our store have very little trouble finding what they need. We are constantly alert to their demands." Bruce Knox, manager of Montgomery Ward & Co., 2317 Broadway, said, "A hardware store today that doesn't carry a full line of merchandise is doomed. We carry a daily want list of things that customers ask for, and this merchandise is rushed to our store immediately. However, we can usually supply them from present stocks."

Redwood City hardware stores can definitely go on record in agreement that "You can get it in Redwood City," and they are ready to prove it.

BADLY HURT IN ACCIDENT

Lawrence Wagner, 32, 1019 Madison Ave., Redwood City, was in a critical condition at University of California Hospital, San Francisco, today with a compound fracture of the skull, suffered when his automobile collided with one driven by Mrs. Ruth Van Herwynen, 45, 167 Central Ave., Redwood City, in San Carlos at 1:25 p.m. Mrs. Van Herwynen suffered severe bruises on the right arm and hip.

Former Local Sheriff Guilty, Asks Probation

UKIAH (AP)—Robert Chatham, 67, one-time San Mateo County sheriff, asked for probation today when he appeared in court for sentencing on a drunk driving conviction. The case was referred to the probation officer for a report Aug. 23.

Jurors took only one ballot yesterday to convict him, after witnesses testified his car was well to the left of the center line on a curve of the Redwood Hwy. June 25 when he collided with two motorcycles. John Olive Jr. of Modesto and John Prouty of Modesto, the cyclists, were injured.

Edison Film Biography Here

Spencer Tracy, noted for the care with which he prepares for his screen roles by studying backgrounds painstakingly, asserts that the practice is valuable to himself as an average citizen. The dramatic film biography is now playing at the Redwood Theater on a dual program with Roy Rogers in "Young Buffalo Bill," an all new thrilling Western.

Reorganization, Merger Of Bay Offices Completed

Plans for a drive on relief chiseling were announced here by Edwin J. Cooley, new Bay Area SRA director, as he disclosed completion of a reorganization and consolidation of the State Relief Administration in San Mateo, San Francisco, Alameda and Contra Costa Counties.

"We have built an entirely new and streamlined organization," Cooley explained, "and now can undertake an intensive study of the case load to insure that all are in need and eligible."

The effectiveness of the new area plan of administration, which is pledged to strict economy and efficiency, has already been demonstrated. Since Director Cooley took office on July 25, the case load for the Bay Area has been reduced by 1563, or from 12,339 to 10,776 cases.

"The case load reduction," Cooley said, "represents a monthly savings to the State of $43,700. Further savings have been realized by cutting administrative costs to the bone.

MANY JOBS FOUND

"In addition to ineligible cases lopped off the rolls since July 25, we were able to close several hundred cases by improved methods of job referrals and by finding other types of assistance. Many cases were closed because our workers found legally responsible relatives who were willing to take their kin off the relief rolls. In many instances those who agreed to help were not aware that their relatives were on relief until our workers contacted them."

The most drastic reduction in the relief load was effected in Alameda County where 1275 or 23 per cent of the case load have been closed.

"We have literally turned the Oakland office upside down," Cooley declared. "The office was virtually closed for two days while physical improvements were being made which have increased its efficiency. Procedures, records and forms have been simplified, and staff trained in new methods of work developed and tested in San Francisco. Utilizing these methods, we were able to investigate all questionable cases, many of which were found to be ineligible and were promptly closed.

JOB BUREAU FORMED

"Among innovations developed in San Francisco and now operating in Alameda is a re-employment department established to expedite placing relief clients in jobs. The department co-operates with the California Department of Employment to insure that relief people are given preference for job referrals. In San Francisco an average of 100 workers a month are taken from the relief rolls through the efforts of the SRA Re-employment Department."

Cooley explained that the lowered case load was not only due to the intense reinvestigation he has ordered made on all active cases, but also to the extension of San Francisco intake practices to the entire Bay Area.

Audiffred's Son To Enter Business

WOODSIDE — Jacques Audiffred, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Audiffred of Miramontes Ave. will be claiming Woodside as his permanent home address again. He has terminated his connections with the Sacramento bank in which he was employed for more than a year to enter business with his father in the steel industry in San Francisco, in which the elder Audiffred has been interested for many years.

Before settling down to his new duties, the young man enjoyed a 10-day outing at Sequoia National Forest.

County offices were accepting applications for relief without making home investigation and verifying the applicants' statements of need," he said. "Since July 25 no case has been accepted for relief until an exhaustive field investigation has been completed and need fully established. These investigations not only weed out chiselers, but also in many cases uncover resources of which families are not aware."

APPLICANTS ASSISTED

Trained and experienced workers assist relief applicants to keep off the rolls by pointing out employment opportunities, contacting relatives and friends, and by devising plans enabling applcants to help themselves.

Auto Court Exonerated

Hugh H. Smith, chairman of the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors, and J. L. Vasey, who operate the Mission Auto Court in Daly City, Tuesday were absolved of blame in the carbon monoxide deaths of a honeymooning Iowa couple who suffocated in one of their cabins last November.

A jury in the court of Federal Judge Welsh denied claims of $150,000 filed by the parents of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Welch. Each set of parents claimed $75,000 on the charge that Smith and Vasey permitted faulty gas connections to remain in the cabin. A coroner's jury had found the deaths accidental.

Seven cities impose municipal cigaret taxes.

Speakers' Bureau Formed by Fiesta

With the idea that you can "sell 'em if you tell 'em," a speakers' bureau has been organized to promote interest and attendance at the San Mateo County Fiesta, it was announced here by J. P. Crown, member of the fiesta board of directors.

As chairman of the bureau, Frank M. Bartlett, San Mateo, will have the assistance of J. A. Branson, Burlingame; members of Redwood City Toastmasters' Club under the presidency of Dr. Rollo O. La Berge, and members of the Burlingame Toastmasters' Club, directed by Pres. William W. Gill.

Five-minute speakers will be available to groups or organizations requesting them.

DINE AND DANCE

By ROUND TOWNER

The big celebration of the year comes off at Mike and Provina's next Wednesday night. The day is Mike's birthday. He never fails on that occasion to put on a royal feast for his patrons. Last year over 800 flocked in for the festivities. This year he's going to be ready for even more. There'll be special music and a floor show. He's ordered a huge birthday cake—eight feet long, four across and 18 inches high. At the tables from which the buffet supper will be served will be great platters of turkey, ravioli, salami, cheese, and many other tidbits. The party starts at 10 p. m.

"Pampered," did we say, last week, when referring to the Broadway Cafe's patrons? That's what we mean. Take the customer, for instance, who considers a turkey's neck the choicest morsel of all. In he prances, every Monday, without fail, to garner the three or four of these prized pieces that Mrs. Kreiss has saved for him, after serving those swell turkey dinners of hers, every Friday and Saturday evening. Hardly a day passes that some one from the regular fold isn't promoting a special "off-the-menu" dish for himself. George Genochio keeps the customers happy and pleased at the cocktail lounge, practically standing them on their ears with choice bits of information and few wise cracks. Quite a card is George.

The name of the Chili King cafe, that inviting looking establishment, sheds its bright lights across the highway at Sunnyvale Junction all the night through. Some years ago, when Bert Call first acquired the place, chili had top billing, and still is a featured dish, but as the establishment was enlarged—a cocktail lounge was added a couple of years ago to bring it to its present roomy proportions.

Five years is a long time to go off and desert your boarders, but it was so with the Kunzers. Returning close to a year ago, Kunzers opened their own restaurant at San Carlos. Those old time patrons take that short distance in their stride, to get to that Kunzer food again. For luncheons and dinner, and for afternoon tea, the old friends filter back for those homemade cakes and pies and other savory desserts to which Mrs. Kunzer again turns her hand.

San Jose and Mountain View convivially meet at Dan's place, at Mountain View Junction, when parties of old friends of the Enrights drive up from the home town, where Dan and Nell still have business and social ties. The visitors come frequently for a song fest, which is a habit with the Enrights.

Two young jitterbug friends of the Enrights came to the coast from the east for a series of exhibits. Between engagements they run out to Mountain View and put on their show at Dan's.

There are two reasons for that appetizing savor which is put into southern fried chicken and Virginia baked ham, at Sunnyvale's Blue Spruce Farm. One is Mrs. Ida Marks, in the restaurant business for many years at Portland, and the other, Mrs. Head, both co-partners with Mr. James Head, in this delightful eating place.

Common Sense Demands That Parkman and Call Be Retained in Office

In a time of national crisis, when good government—state, county and local—is of prime importance, it is common sense to keep in office officials who are experienced and have proved their worth.

In State Senator Harry L. Parkman and Assemblyman Harrison W. Call, San Mateo County has such officials. Both are veteran legislators who have received statewide recognition on their services.

* * *

The tall, genial senator served in the assembly from 1926 to 1932, when he was elected to the senate, a position to which he was re-elected in 1936 and which he seeks again now.

His background of experienece in the assembly, as well as in the senate, is unequalled in this county, and the fact that he has been re-elected to both the assembly and the senate shows the high esteem in which he is held by voters of San Mateo County.

During his 14-year legislative career, Senator Parkman has been a leader in the struggle to secure better highways for this county, and many important construction and widening projects owe much to his zeal and persistence. Pensions for the aged, public schools, and prevention of soil erosion have been other fields in which his efforts have contributed to advancement of beneficial legislation.

* * *

Harrison W. Call, stocky, good-natured lawyer whose aggressive leadership in committee work of the Yorty Assembly Committee to Investigate the State Relief Administration, made him a figure of statewide importance, is seeking his third term as assemblyman.

His courageous leadership in the investigation of the dictagraph scandal which rocked the state capital again placed him in the forefront of state legislators.

Besides his background of two terms in the assembly, Mr. Call's legal knowledge is of great value to him in a law-making body. With the defense program of key importance at present, he also has the advantage of army experience. He saw service on the Mexican border during 1916-17, remained in the army until 1919, and held a commission in the officer's reserve corps until 1930.

* * *

Both Mr. Parkman and Mr. Call have been leaders in the non-partisan fight for economy in state government. This is an important fact for voters to keep in mind, for with the national defense program sending national expenditures sky-rocketing, it is vital that state expenses be kept to a minimum without ham-stringing defense needs.

The two legislators are experienced and capable, and have proved their merit through long service. To those persons who wish guidance on how to vote for state legislative officers, we recommend that they cast their votes August 27 for Senator Parkman and Assemblyman Call.

Hawes Park Changes Also

Several small but much-needed improvements to the swimming facilities at the Redwood City Yacht Harbor, suggested by Frank McAuliffe, 12 Lowell St., were recommended by the recreation commission to the city manager Tuesday, as the commission's first step toward development of the facility.

The harbor is being transferred to the recreation commission's authority, from the port commission, City Manager C. L. Dimmitt notified the group.

Included in McAuliffe's suggestions were replacement of the diving board on the swimming float, removal of barnacles on the float, enforcement of regulations prohibiting boats from tying up at the float, placing of refuse cans, and installation of picnic tables.

Those and other inexpensive improvements will be made directly, Dimmitt said. More costly plans to enlarge the bathhouse and sandbox, install a larger parking area and improve the roadway have been contemplated for some time but must await funds, he said.

The commission approved a plan submitted by Ole S. Oleson, chairman of the successful July 4 celebration this year, for next year's celebration, outlining committee heads and a general plan of operation.

Little Chance Seen Now for ROTC Unit

With neither funds nor personnel available for establishment of new units at the present time, possibility of early installation of a junior Reserve Officers Training Corps at Sequoia High School is slight, Supt. A. C. Argo was informed Tuesday.

From D. B. Crafton, colonel in the infantry and acting assistant adjutant general of the U. S. army at the Presidio of San Francisco, came a letter stating "Your application is being placed on file at this headquarters and will receive every possible consideration when and if congressional action authorizes the establishment of additional units."

He inclosed a recent release from the War Department stating that "it is probable that no additional units will be authorized in the near future."

"The War Department is of the opinion," the release stated, "that it is unwise to augment the ROTC until adequate provisions are made for existing units."

The Sequoia trustees, in voting last month to apply for installation of voluntary military training at the Redwood City school, were advised that it might be some time before such a course could be secured, since expense is borne by the federal government, but decided to apply so that if funds are made available a junior ROTC unit could be formed here.

MENLO PARK NEWS NOTES

MENLO PARK—In the Church of the Nativity Sunday at 2 p.m. Father Thomas McKeon united in marriage George Elwood Sullivan and Miss Jean Gibson, both of Menlo Park. The young couple have taken a house on Roble Ave. Mrs. Edna Crane Birchfield played the wedding march at the impressive ceremony.

★ ★ ★

Stanley H. Johnson and Miss Marion Van Horn are to be married in Trinity Episcopal Church at 4 p. m. Saturday, the Rev. Charles Fritz officiating. The wedding march will be played by Mrs. Alice Van Horn, mother of the attractive bride. Mrs. Van Horn has been organist of Trinity Church for 14 years. Her daughter is a member of the choir.

★ ★ ★

The Lions Club is preparing plans for a "Night in Old Menlo" in the Menlo Park Picnic Grounds Sept. 21. It's to be a big affair in honor of the "first settlers." Old clothes, worn in pioneer days, will be a feature. Those appearing in "Sunday apparel" are to be stripped and given ancient costumes to wear for the evening. There should be plenty of amusement for all on that occasion. The Lions always do things in a big way.

★ ★ ★

Rev. Charles Fritz, Mrs. Fritz and their son, who have been vacationing in the High Sierras for the past month, have returned.

★ ★ ★

Menlo Park is one of the fastest growing communities on the Peninsula. In the past year $1,500,000 was spent in the erection of homes. This is a record difficult to beat. Old timers are looking forward to the time when the Hopkins estate will be subdivided. This choice property will have ready sale. Palo Alto probably will move on this side of San Francisquito Creek.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Catherine Derry, the local social leader, returned from Ziegler's Springs this week after a sojourn of two weeks at that well-known summer resort.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. J. B. Lynch is here visiting friends for a few days before returning to her home in Reno, Nev. Mrs. Lynch spent the past two months in British Columbia where she was a guest of her sister.

★ ★ ★

Robert Fredericks is spending his vacation with several companions in Northern California. Mr. Fredericks is a member of the Signal Mountain Club of 100 members who have 500 acres in the midst of the deer district. The members have already shot four.

★ ★ ★

James Sylvester, age 30, and Miss Yolanda Fambrini, age 22, of Menlo Park and San Francisco, were married in the Church of the Nativity Sunday at 4 p.m. Father McKeon officiated. The couple will live at North Palo Alto.

★ ★ ★

The ladies of Menlo Park American Legion Auxiliary held their regular monthly community sing in wards 7 and 17 at the Veterans Hospital near Palo Alto last Tuesday. They served a picnic luncheon to the patients in ward 7 and were assisted by friends of the auxiliary who donated some of the refreshments.

★ ★ ★

Commander George Condos, Second Vice Dist. Comm. Philip Blanchard and Post Comm. Herbert Dittrich are representing Menlo Park Post 443, American Legion, at the Department Convention in San Diego this week.

★ ★ ★

W. H. Weeden, his daughter Isabelle Weeden Lindquist and her daughter Emma Roberta were Santa Rosa visitors last weekend.

Feature event of the day was the "grudge race" between Councilmen Floyd D. Granger and William M. Werder. EDSEL FORD GREETS "100 CAR" DEALERS

A busy and entertaining two day program on Treasure Island, site of the Golden Gate International Exposition, was enjoyed by "100 car" Ford dealers from all parts of the country as the guests of the Ford Motor Company. Participating in the program also were Ford dealers from the Seattle, Salt Lake, Long Beach and Richmond Branches. Upper photo shows section of the speakers' table, left to right, Edsel Ford, President of the Ford Motor Company and son of its founder, Henry Ford; H. C. Doss, General Sales Manager, Dearborn; W. J. Cameron, Ford Motor Company, Dearborn, featured speaker at this luncheon of 1000 dealers and members of their families, and J. R. Davis, Manager of the Long Beach Branch and Western Sales Supervisor. Below, left, shows Edsel Ford with Marshall Dill, President of the San Francisco Exposition, as they greeted the newspapermen in an interview preceding the luncheon. Lower Right, Ford dealers crowding to the speakers' table following the luncheon, to shake hands with Mr. Ford and have him autograph their menus and receive from him a gracious and smiling greeting. He is shown shaking hands with Fred Brown of San Diego, a "100 car" Ford dealer, while Earl Dahlem, Manager Wm. L. Hughson Co., San Francisco, waits to greet him. Following the luncheon, dealers visited the elaborate Ford Exposition Exhibit in the Ford Building on Treasure Island.

By a 12-Word Will, Man Gives Wife Estate

In one of the shortest wills ever filed in San Mateo County John G. Weiler of North Palo Alto, who died Aug. 3, leaving his wife, Mrs. Justine Weiler, and daughters Donna Jean, 14, and Margaret, 11, bequeathed his entire estate to Mrs. Weiler.

The holographic will, dated July 15, 1939, was 12 words in length, saying, "I hereby bequeath all my worldly goods to my wife, Justine Weiler."

Mrs. Weiler's petition for probate of the will and for letters of administration did not state the value of the estate. She and her daughters reside at 510 Central Ave., North Palo Alto.
